PRODUCER/ DIRECTOR'S VISION

Robbie Moffat is an established feature film Director and Producer, with 'I Know What I'm Doing' being his latest production. 'I Know What I'm Doing' is an epic story about love, and the power of fate, even when you're least expecting it. It is a tale of romance and quaintness in a modern world rushing on.

The film is set in the beautiful backdrop of rural of Yorkshire, in Northern England. June Bennett, the protagonist, knows exactly what she's doing. She's going to marry one of the richest men in Britain, Sir Alan Pennington, and live a comfortable, privileged life. Despite him being many years older than herself; she knows she's in love.

However, her whole world turns upside down when news of a volcano ash cloud disrupts her perfect plans and stops Sir Alan from getting to the country estate in Yorkshire, where the wedding is taking place.

"I believe the ash cloud adds a contemporary, modern twist to the classic story line, as it is something that we can all relate to. In effect, this really brings this story home and gives it more a personal feel to the audience."

"We decided to set the film in Yorkshire to give the film a quintessentially British feel, with British characters and a typical British landscape for the mise en scene. It is a typical English estate, with great, realistic characters that are interesting, eccentric and a joy to watch on screen."

"We cast Emily Bergl as the lead actress for this film because we thought she was a fantastic actress who would bring the character of June Bennett to life."
